

AMERICANS CLEAR BELLEAU WOODS, SLAUGHTER HUNS

TAKE 250 PRISONERS, TWO 3-INCH GUNS

German Jews Compelled to go Into Battle by Machine Guns Placed in the Rear of Their Lines

After Entering Battle They Are Chained to Guns and Wagons,--U. S. Casualties Are Not Heavy

(By United Press)

With Americans in France, June 12.—The Americans completely cleared the important Belleau woods five miles west of Chateau Thierry of the enemy forces. The Germans were slaughtered in great numbers, those surviving fled.

The Americans prepared with artillery then attacked the Germans still holding the northern portion of the wood. They followed instructions in pushing through to the northeast corner of the wood, but also captured 250 prisoners, two 3 inch guns and some mine werfers. The U. S. casualties were light excepting at one point where a German machine gun nest held out for some time.

A German attack against Boerches repulsed. The German prisoners captured are young and drafted from all parts of Germany. They say many regiments are recruited from the Jews. These are compelled to go into battle by machine guns placed in the rear of the lines. After they enter the battle lines they are chained to guns and wagons. The prisoners say the German people understand that only two hundred thousand Americans are in France.

U. S. Patrol Boat Fights German Submarine

BY CARL D. GROAT, (Staff Correspondent, United Press)

Washington, June 12.—An American coast patrol vessel has been in a battle with a German submarine. This is learned from unquestionable sources. It is also known the navy department has a mass of reports from the patrol commanders. None of these has been made public. Secretary Daniels states that only absolutely authenticated cases of sinkings or capture are announceable. But the United Press has learned that undoubtedly the patrol vessel fired upon a submarine and dropped depth bombs about her. The effect is only conjectured. The second case is not so clear cut but it is also believed to be authentic and on record.

First Survivors of U-Boats to Reach Shore

These four men were the first survivors of the attack of the German U-boats on the New Jersey coast to reach shore in safety. They were members of the crew of the Edward H. Cole, the four-masted Boston schooner which was blown up June 2 by the U-boat. They were adrift in lifeboats for several hours till they were picked up by another vessel and taken to New York City.

WEST WILL GET MORE WAR WORK

Eastern Districts Are Unable to Handle the Large Volume of Trade.

OUTLINES NEW POLICY

War Industries Board and Railroad Administration Takes Action Owing to Inability of Roads to Haul Coal and Manufactured Products.

Washington, June 12.—The government has prescribed a district in which it will permit no increase in the volume of war orders not in the number of plants handling them. The action is taken to check further industrial congestion in the already overburdened East.

This district includes New England, eastern and southern New York, eastern Pennsylvania to Williamsport, and Altoona, New Jersey, Delaware and eastern Maryland, excluding Baltimore.

The new policy announced by the War Industries board and Fuel and Railroad administrations will tend to create expansion of industries in the Middle West and South, although the process is expected to be so gradual as not to work any hardship on the Eastern manufacturing area nor cause unusual industrial booms elsewhere.

Railroad Shortage Is Cause.

The reason for the action which already has been put into effect to some degree, is primarily the inability of the railroads to supply sufficient coal or to haul promptly all the manufactured products turned out by constantly growing industries. The shortage of labor in the East and the congested terminals of Atlantic ports were contributory.

The announcement of the policy, which has been under consideration since the serious freight traffic slump and coal shortage last winter, follows:

"A policy has been adopted and made effective for preventing further increase in the volume of war orders and the number of establishments handling them in the area known as the congested manufacturing and transportation district. This comprises the New England states; eastern and southern New York, Pennsylvania as far west as Williamsport and Altoona; all of New Jersey and Delaware; eastern Maryland, not including Baltimore.

Exceptions to Be Few.

"Exceptions to this policy will be made only if unavoidable through inability otherwise to provide for war needs.

"The congested district comprises those Eastern states in which so large a proportion of war industries is located as to make it difficult to supply all with necessary raw materials and fuels. This difficulty obtains because coal for these industries is mined in the territory west of the Allegheny mountains. It might be carried into this congested district by a limited number of railway lines and by ships from Hampton Roads and Baltimore.

"The amount of coal therefore, which can be transported into this congested area during any one season is limited and is an entirely separate problem from the production of coal. However, much coal is mined in Western Pennsylvania, West Virginia and Ohio. Only so much is available for this congested district as the railroads and ships can transport into it."

Washington, June 12.—Curtailement of coal supplies to manufacturers of passenger automobiles for the year beginning in August, to 25 per cent.

Austrian Dreadnaughts Sunk by Torpedo Boats

(By United Press)

Rome, June 12.—An official statement says that two small Italian torpedo boats defying the entire Austrian battle fleet sank two of the largest dreadnaughts in the Austrian navy Monday morning and returned safely to their bases. This occurred off the Dalmatian islands on the Austrian side of the Adriatic. In the pursuit following an Austrian destroyer was badly damaged.

This is one of the steps in a drastic program for reduction of fuel allowed non-war industries to meet the expected coal shortage next winter.

RECORD PRICE FOR CATTLE

Good Bunch of Steers Brings $17.90 on Chicago Market.

Chicago, June 12.—Prices paid for cattle at the Chicago stock yards have reached the highest point known at that market, it was said.

For 36 steers, average 1,427 pounds, a big packing firm paid $17.90 a hundred, the highest ever paid for a good bunch of steers, according to yard statisticians. One fancy steer sold at $18, or 10 cents higher than any previous figure.

San Diego, June 12.—Exploitation of the immense sea salt beds of Seasmill's lagoon, Lower California, is to be undertaken by the Mexican government, it was learned through advices sent here by Senor Cabrera, secretary of the department of fomento at Mexico City. The Lower California salt beds are reported to be the largest natural deposits in the world. The deposits at Seasmill's lagoon extend over an area 35 miles in length and 10 miles wide, the salt being at maximum depth of four feet.

Washington, June 12.—Representatives of state railroad and utility commissioners presented to the railroad administration a plan for cooperating in supervising rates and regulating railroad practices. They proposed that state commissioners retain their present police powers over such matters as safety appliances, spur tracks and running speed, and in addition act as the director general's agents in the investigation of proposed rate revisions, referring their recommendations to the director general for final action.

Moscow and Petrograd Under Martial Law

BY JOSEPH SHAPLEN, (Staff Correspondent, United Press)

Stockholm, June 12.—Bolshevik action has placed Moscow and Petrograd under martial law probably on account of the uncovering of a plot brewing weeks ago aiming to overthrow the Bolsheviks by simultaneous uprisings in Moscow and Petrograd. Numerous cadet leaders are involved. General Darsky, former commander of the Russian forces, now military chief of Petrograd, said we must defend the country because Germany can break the Brest Litovsk peace treaty whenever she wishes. The plan for training the workmen is as yet undeveloped. Universal military service is impossible. Russia's continuation in the war is inevitable, but we must get rid of the Bolsheviks first.

Rumored in Connection With New Effort on British Front.

Paris, June 12.—In its comment on the military situation the Echo de Paris says: "The enemy is striving to attain a decisive success at all costs, expecting to end the war. In this supreme moment it would not be a surprise if he should shortly attempt a naval action, with full naval forces, combined with a new effort on the British front."

FRENCH LAUNCH SUDDEN ATTACK

Turn on Advancing Germans and Administer a Very Severe Beating.

TAKE MANY PRISONERS

Terrific Battle Rages Over Front of About Seven and a Half Miles—Germans Lose Many Men During Hail of Shell and Rifle Fire.

London, June 12.—A severe defeat has been administered to the Germans southeast of Montdidier. The French turned and in a violent attack over a front of about seven and a half miles between Robecourt and St. Maur the enemy was steadily forced back.

It was over this front that the French since Sunday's offensive began had held back the Germans from keeping pace with the advance they were making from the center of the line south of Reims on Matz toward the Oise river and where the onslaughts of the invaders were met with a defense in man and gun power that brought to the Germans enormous casualties.

The village of Belloy, Genlis wood and the heights rising between Gournelles and Mortemer were recaptured by the French, and in addition to the infliction of heavy casualties on the enemy General Foch's men took more than a thousand prisoners and also captured guns.

Win Victory in Center.

In the immediate center of the line between Montdidier and Noyon, where the Germans had been able to extend the apex of their drive to Anthenil, the enemy also was attacked and driven back, but southwest of Noyon he succeeded in reaching Machemont and Bethancourt, the last named place lying on the west bank of the Oise river. Hard fighting is still in progress in this region with the French disputing the attempts of the Germans to press onward.

Having reached he Oise in the region of Ribecourt the enemy, if he purposes to try to fight his way along the west bank of the stream, soon must emerge in force upon the lowlands bordering the waterway, where the troops of General Foch are said to be in strong array—both in men and guns—waiting to dispute the road to Paris.

Foe Claims 10,000 Captives.

The German war office claims the capture of 10,000 additional prisoners, which, with the number of captives reported Monday would bring the total to 18,000 in the present fighting. Since the new offensive began along the Soissons-Rheims sector May 27, it is asserted by the German official communication, the army group of the German crown prince has taken about 75,000 Allied troops captive.

In one of the most ambitious operations carried out in many days, Haig's troops, in the Amiens sector have struck the German a hard blow. The Australians carried out the maneuver and they succeeded in advancing their lines half a mile over a mile and a half front and took nearly 300 prisoners, including five officers. In addition, 21 machine guns and a trench mortar were captured.

ARTILLERY ARM IS EQUAL

French Army Headquarters, June 12.—The artillery strength of the two armies is almost equal, although the gun fire of the French is more effective because the French are more familiar with the ground. The fierceness of the fighting and the inflexible determination with which the enemy accepts his shocking losses indicate that he is determined to continue until complete victory or complete exhaustion ensues in the decisive battle of the year.

RUSS APPEALS FOR ALLIED AID

Washington, June 12.—An appeal to the United States and the Allies to send an expeditionary force to Russia to repel the German invaders, forwarded by the central committee of the cadet party in Russia, was transmitted to the state department by the Russian embassy. It is asked that the expedition, if sent, be put under international control to guarantee the rights of Russia.

History of the Sword.
The sword came from ancient Egypt and was used through Palestine, Syria and Asia Minor, India and throughout the western world. It was in Egypt that the three shapes of the sword blade originated, these being the straight, the curved and the half curved. The Roman sword was larger than that of the Greeks and in the days of the empire many of the sheaths were so covered with precious stones as to be veritable art treasures. Among the Moslems the highest title given to a warrior of renown is "the sword of Allah." The Chinese made swords of iron as early as 1879 B. C.

Ireland's Patroness.
The first day of February is the anniversary of St. Brigid, or Brigit, the "patroness" of Ireland and of Fleet street. She was the beautiful daughter of an Irish bard, and her story seems to have fired the Celtic imagination. Wherever the early Irish missionaries wandered in western Europe, from Cologne to Seville, churches or abbots will be found dedicated to her honor, and wherever the "exiles of Erin" may migrate the name of Bridget marks a woman of Irish race. The spire of her church in Fleet street has been repeatedly struck by lightning and is now much reduced in height, but remains one of the three tallest steeples in London.—London Chronicle.

CRITICAL STAGE OF BATTLE HERE
Present German Operations Constitute Serious Blow at Lines of Allies.

FRENCH HURL FOE BACK
Enemy Forced to Forfeit Gain Within Four Miles of Campiagne—French Counter Attack Retakes Village On Left.

London, June 12.—The Germans in their plunge southward on the line from Noyon to Montdidier continue to gain here and there in the center of the line, where their greatest effort has been exerted and where the French resistance might have been expected to be most stubborn.

Frightful losses have been inflicted upon the invaders. Their greatest advance is at Vignemont, six miles from the line as it stood previously.

French Stand on Aronda.
The French have launched counter attacks on the left of their line, which may be an indication that they have reached the front where they will make their final stand. This line seems to be along the Aronda river, a small stream flowing west and northwest from the Oise and roughly paralleling the line of the advance.

The Germans according to the official statement issued by the French war office, reached the vicinity of this stream. This marked the limit of their advance, however, and the line passing through Belloy south of St. Maurice of Marquessie and Vandell court. The village of Mery, west of Belloy, was retaken by the French Monday night.

Teutons Threaten Ribecourt.
This part of the battlefield, however, apparently is not the most menacing to the French. It is further east that the Germans seem to be making their most telling gains. Along the right bank of the Oise, they have reached Antoval, a village which lies on the crest of the hills above the important town of Ribecourt, lying on low flat lands west and south of Ribecourt has been withdrawn in consequence.

This movement has not resulted as yet, according to reports, in the withdrawal of the French lines east of the Oise from the Ourcamp and Carlepont forests, strong positions from which the French defended their positions in the earlier attempts of the Germans to cross the Oise south of Semipigny.

Critical Stage Reached.
The battle in the new area may now be considered as having definitely entered its critical stage, as in the Somme, Flanders and Alsace combats the third and fourth days of the offensive were most menacing to the Allies. It now seems certain that the present German operation constitutes a very serious blow at the Allied lines from the Oise to the Marne as well as threatening the level country behind the present battle lines. Before this can be reached, however, the Germans may encounter even greater resistance than they have overcome since their offensive began.

26 YANKEES KILLED IN ACTION
Latest Casualty List Contains Total of 130 Names.
Washington, June 12.—The last army casualty list contained 130 names, divided as follows: Killed in action, 26; died of wounds, 3; died of accident and other causes, 3; died of disease, 7; wounded severely, 48; wounded, degree undetermined, 43.

Names of soldiers from the northwest appear on the list as follows: Private James A. Burns, Wausau, Wis., killed in action; Corp. Arthur H. Mount, Sauk City, Wis., died of disease; Private James Hartney, Minneapolis; Private Henry L. Link, Menominee, Wis.; Private Harry McCombe, Edgerton, Wis.; Private Cecil Boden, Deland, S. D., severely wounded.

Opprobrious Epithets.
A correspondent informs us that a woman defendant in a Brittany police court has been fined 50 francs for calling another woman "an old tank." The offense presumably lay in the unusual, as in the case of the fishwife whom O'Connell silenced by calling a "paral-lelopped." Psychology has never yet solved the problem why a comparatively innocuous phrase may cause more offense than the vilest abuse. For instance, "mort aux vaches" does not strike the Englishman as so very terrible, yet, to tell a French gentleman of your desire for an increase in the mortality rate among cows is a sure way of asking for trouble than to slander the Pope in a Home Rule stronghold.—London Globe.

Wrens Valuable in the Garden.
The examination of 88 stomachs of house wrens showed that 98 per cent of their contents was composed of insects or their allies, and only 2 per cent of vegetable matter, made up of bits of grass and other vegetation evidently taken in catching the insects.

As the wren often raises in a season 12 to 16 young, all of which become mature enough to forage for themselves very soon after they are able to leave the nest, it is evident that a pair of these lively little birds are very desirable tenants in garden or orchard.—Boswell's House Journal.

HAVE DARK HAIR AND LOOK YOUNG
Nobility can't Tell when you Darken Gray, Faded Hair with Sage Tea.

Grandmother kept her hair beautifully darkened, glossy and attractive with a brew of Sage Tea and Sulphur. Whenever her hair took on that dull, faded or streaked appearance, this simple mixture was applied with wonderful effect. By asking at any drug store for "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," you will get a large bottle of this old-time recipe, improved by the addition of other ingredients, all ready to use, at very little cost. This simple mixture can be depended upon to restore natural color and beauty to the hair.

A well-known downtown druggist says everybody uses Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound now because it darkens so naturally and evenly that nobody can tell it has been applied—it's so easy to use, too. You simply dampen a comb or soft brush and draw it through your hair, taking one strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears; after another application or two, it is restored to its natural color and looks glossy, soft and beautiful. This preparation is a delightful toilet requisite. It is not intended for the cure, mitigation or prevention of disease.

WOMAN'S REALM

"JERUSALEM AND FUTURE OF JEW"

Topic of Discourse of Dr. Riley at Bible Conference in Methodist Church This Evening

KAISER NEVER RULE WORLD

Dr. Riley Goes to the Bottom of His Subject and Furnishes Biblical Proof

A subject of unusual interest is announced for tonight at the Bible conference when Dr. Riley will speak on "The Fall of Jerusalem and the Future of the Jew." The timeliness of this subject should attract a large attendance. No more significant event than the fall of Jerusalem has marked the world war.

There was a gratifying attendance at the session last night, when Dr. Riley spoke on "Why the Kaiser will Never Rule the World." One of the speaker's elements of strength lies in the fact that he goes to the bottom of his subject, and furnishes proof for all his assertions.

The address last night was based on the second chapter of Daniel, in which is the record of Daniel's interpretation of Nebuchadnezzar's dream. The astrologers and wise men of Babylon could not interpret it because they had no source of knowledge to which to go. Daniel went to the living God, the revealer of secrets, and got the truth.

The "Image Dream" as it is called, set forth the future kingdoms of the world, and traced civilization down to its end. Babylon was the head of gold. Nebuchadnezzar was its king. Medo-Persia was its chest and arms, of silver. Greece was its belly and thighs of brass. Rome was its legs of iron and clay. Four universal empires. The significant thing is that there will not be another such universal empire until the God of Heaven sets it up.

History has run most remarkably into the mold of this prophecy and the significant fact was pointed out that these very kingdoms were named in Daniel before they existed, except the last and the first. God can write history, more accurately before it happens than mortal man can afterwards.

Exposition of this prophecy was grouped under three heads:

First, the development of revelation. On this point the speaker dealt with the inspiration of the Bible, which he declared to be wholly inspired by God, and given by men who were borne along by the Holy God, through man. But revelation must be understood by the enlightenment of the Holy Spirit. As He is the author so must He be the interpreter of revelation.

Second, the reversal of evolution. Darwin and Daniel have crossed swords on the point of human improvement. Daniel says world kingdoms begin with gold and end with iron and clay, a disintegrated world empire divided into warring nations. One need but look across the waters to see the proof. According to the evolutionist, the order should have been reversed. One must choose between Daniel and Darwin, for both cannot be accepted. Daniel sees our boasted civilization reaching a point where culture seems to have had

Why I Believe in Nuxated Iron

As a Tonic, Strength and Blood Builder

Probably no remedy has ever met with such phenomenal success as has Nuxated Iron. It is conservatively estimated that over three million people annually are taking it in this country alone. It has been highly endorsed and used by Former United States Senators and Members of Congress. Physicians who have been connected with well-known hospitals have prescribed and recommended it. Monsigneur Nannini, a prominent clergyman, recommends it to all. Former Health Commissioner Wm. R. Kerr, of Chicago, says it ought to be used in every hospital and prescribed by every physician. Dr. A. J. Newman, late Police Surgeon of the City of Chicago, and former House Surgeon Jefferson Park Hospital, Chicago, says Nuxated Iron has proven through his own tests of it to excel any preparation he has ever used for creating red blood, building up the nerves, strengthening the muscles and correcting digestive disorders. Dr. James Francis Sullivan, formerly physician of Bellevue Hospital (Outdoor dept.) New York, and the Westchester County Hospital says there are thousands of men and women who need a strength and blood builder but do not know what to take. In his opinion there is nothing better than organic iron—Nuxated Iron—for enriching the blood and helping to increase the strength and endurance of men and women who burn up too rapidly their nervous energy in the strenuous strain of the great business competition of the day.

If you are not strong or well, you owe it to yourself to make the following test: See how long you can work or how far you can walk without becoming tired. Next take two five-grain tablets of Nuxated Iron three times per day after meals for two weeks. Then test your strength again and see how much you have gained.

Manufacturers' Note: Nuxated Iron, which has been used by former members of the United States Senate and House of Representatives, and other prominent people with such surprising results, and which is prescribed and recommended above by physicians is not a secret remedy, but one which is well known to druggists everywhere. Unlike the older impure iron products, it is easily assimilated, does not injure the teeth, makes them black nor spoils the stomach. The manufacturers guarantee successful and entirely satisfactory results to every purchaser or they will refund the money. It is dispensed by all good druggists.

nothing else in mind than making men brutes.

Third, there is seen in this prophecy, the climax of revolution. Every nation is cursed with revolutions. Multiplied instances were cited in proof of this statement. But though men are always trying to bring about better conditions by revolution, and smaller states have sometimes lived on them as a regular diet, this fact only shows that man can never fix things right. He has not the power to do it. The solemn truth is that he is degenerating, as Daniel said he would.

The climax of revolution will come when the stone, Christ, cut out of the mountain without hands shall smite the image on the feet, with its many kingdomed division of world empire, and set up a kingdom which will fill the whole earth.

Dr. Riley denied that such a picture is pessimistic. The new civilization is coming, but it can only come when Christ by His coming casts down all kingdoms and sets up His own one universal kingdom. This He will do, "and, brethren," concluded the speaker, "if this is not optimism, I do not know the meaning of the word."

Since Daniel reveals no more universal kingdoms, the Kaiser cannot rule the world unless he should be antichrist, and in that case only for a few short months.

The Bible conference will extend over today and Thursday, Dr. Riley's closing theme being "God's Answer to Modern Skepticism," to be given Thursday evening.

MAY PROVE FATAL

When Will Brainerd People Learn the Importance of it?

Backache is only a simple thing at first; But if you find 'tis from the kidneys;

That serious kidney troubles may follow;

That dropsy or Bright's disease may be the fatal end.

You will be glad to know the following experience.

"Tis the statement of a Brainerd citizen. Mrs. A. Hass, 1615 S. Norwood St., says: "I was in very bad shape last summer with my kidneys and my back pained me so badly I could hardly stand on my feet to wash a dish and when I did my back would feel as if it were breaking. I had dizzy spells and a creepy feeling all over me. I was as nervous as could be and would go a long time without my kidneys having acted. I tried Doan's Kidney Pills and they quickly benefited me, and I was soon rid of kidney trouble."

SUPERIOR WOMAN DOING HER BIT

Mrs. J. B. Ennis of Superior, Formerly of Brainerd, Has Three Sons in the War

MRS. ENNIS IS AN INVALID

She and Her Husband Have 23 Relatives Fighting For Uncle Sam in the War

An invalid, in the orbit of her activities confined to her home or near it, there is a Superior mother of soldiers who is not only doing her bit, says the Superior Telegram, but as the common measure goes she is far exceeding it.

Three sons has Mrs. J. B. Ennis, 1924 Belknap street, given to the services of Uncle Sam. She and her husband have altogether at least 23 relatives including cousins, who are in the army or navy, and all eight members of the immediate family are doing their share, in some way, to "halt the Hun."

Mr. and Mrs. Ennis are former residents of Brainerd and well known to the older residents of the city.

Three sons have enlisted, Sergeant Frank J. Ennis is attending an officers' training school. He enlisted in June, 1916, when 22 years old, and went directly to San Antonio, Texas. While there he joined the company which made the hike of 83 miles to Austin, Texas. At San Antonio he played on the company football team, and also on the divisional team at Waco, where he was one of the star players.

Private Vincent J. Ennis of the U. S. general hospital medical corps enlisted at Fort Bay, N. M., at the age of 16, now in France. He is firm in his decision that he "will not return until he gets the Kaiser." He also makes note of the fact that Uncle Sam feeds his boys pretty well, as he has gained 20 pounds since joining the colors. In a recent letter to his parents he says "If the people in America could see one fifth of what we have seen they would hurry here faster."

Russell E. Ennis, wagoner, better known as "The Turk," is with the Superior company for the 128th U. S. Infantry, also in France. He enlisted July 1917, at the age of 20 years. He is anxious to go to France, and says that he wants to get into the big fight.

Raymond E. Ennis, the fourth son also intended to enlist in June, but owing to an accident that he sustained while working on the Great Northern railroad, he will probably be prevented.

The younger members of the family, Kathleen and Bernard, are doing their bit, Kathleen picking oakum with other members of a Red Cross club, and Bernard practicing so that he may at some time be a drummer boy in the ranks.

TIMELY NOTES OF FASHION

New scarfs are made of tulle, in brilliant shades, edged with spangles and beaded designs in bright colors. Sometimes the irregular border at each end of the scarf is as much as 18 inches deep in places.

Straw embroidery is used on some of the smartest hats. The vernicle straw is set on edge and applied in the designs wished for. A shade darker or sometimes a contrasting color to that of the hat is used.

Applique figures are a good deal used on children's frocks this spring. They are cut of cretonne sometimes, or out of hand-blocked linen, and applied to a linen frock. One big fruit, for instance, will be used on one side of the child's skirt. Sometimes these figures are slightly cut out, silhouette fashion, of colored silk or linen and applied to the frock.

Parrots have a rather definite place in our decorative scheme nowadays. We have utilized them in interiors for months—to very good effect, too. And now we find them on hats and frocks. Sometimes a parrot made of colored fabric is applied to the brim and crown of a straw hat. And in a smart little linen frock for a child a parrot swinging in a ring, embroidered in green and brown, decorates the corners of the wide white collar.

FOLEY KIDNEY PILLS FOR BACKACHE KIDNEYS AND BLADDER

PARTISAN TALK IS SURE TO CROP UP

ALL THE "DEPLORING" IN CONGRESS CANNOT SUPPRESS IT AS ELECTION NEARS.

"WHIPPING BOYS" ARE MANY

They Are Objects of Attack by Critics of the Administration Who Do Not Care to Criticize the President of the United States.

By ARTHUR W. DUNN.

Washington.—Never an issue of the Congressional Record these days but there are remarks which "deplore partisan criticisms," and also assertions to the effect that "this is not time for partisan discussion." At the same time, as the election gets nearer and nearer there is an increase of partisan discussion. Naturally the attacks come from the Republicans. They belong to the opposition party. They are the "outs." They must find enough faults with the "ins" to convince the people that there should be a change when they go to the polls next November.

As a consequence the "deploping" speeches come largely from the Democratic side in both senate and house. At the same time it is observed that the Democrats do not hesitate to attack the Republicans whenever an opportunity affords. The Republicans claim they have an excellent excuse for exhibiting partisanship on account of the strong support which President Wilson and the entire Democratic administration gave to Joseph Davies, who was Democratic candidate for senator in Wisconsin. With an election coming on, it is impossible to keep partisanship out of congressional debates.

There are a lot of "whipping boys" connected with the administration. Readers of history know that as soon as parliamentary bodies or ministries became responsible to some extent for carrying on the affairs of a government, and even before, when the monarch was primarily responsible for everything, the opponents never attacked the head of the administration directly but severely castigated the "king's advisers."

Rarely do the opponents of the administration say much in criticism directly of the president, but they do "take it out" on one or more of the "whipping boys." A few years ago it was Josephus Daniels of the navy department who was the prime "whipping boy" of the Wilson administration. Since the war began Secretary Baker has been the principal "whipping boy," and at various intervals Herbert Hoover, the food administrator; Doctor Garfield, the fuel administrator, and George Creel, the chief of the bureau of information. Each in his turn takes his place as "whipping boy" and very severe things are said about these men, not only by Republicans opposed politically to the administration, but by many Democrats.

A shrewd political observer who watched the demonstration which was given by the L. L. L. upon his first appearance in the house of representatives after his election to the senate made the remark: "Does this create another presidential possibility?" L. L. L. belonged to the progressive wing of the Republican party, had a great deal of independence, and showed a great deal of ability. Of course Wisconsin has never really been considered one of the states on the presidential highway, but conditions might make it desirable to nominate a candidate from the Badger state.

The drama is to form an important part of the training camp activities and amateur actors are to be developed in camps in this country in order that they may be able to do their share in the way of entertaining the troops when they get to France. It is believed by the men in charge of camp entertainments that this will prove a very useful feature and help to entertain the soldiers in France in the evening when they cannot indulge in recreation and sports. It is reported that already some very competent stage material has been found among the soldiers in the various cantonments, which is not surprising in view of the large number of men who have been chosen for war work.

Under the senate's code it is considered bad form for a senator to engage in an argument unless he at the same time twines garlands of flowers around his opponent and sprays him with compliments. The other party is expected to reply in like manner and all this overwhelming courtesy hangs in the air everlastingly. It saturates everything within the four walls of the senate chamber and very seldom is the spell shattered. Recently a man from the wild and woolly West crossed swords with a Southerner, and this was waited to the ears of the audience: "I think probably I am very dull," said the Southerner, plaintively, "but I cannot exactly understand the senator. That is why I asked him a question most respectfully."

"I have such profound respect for the senator," the untamed Westerner replied, "that I admit, and admit contritely and willingly, that the fault rests with me in my mode of expression." And a short silence ensued, broken only by the muffled sobbing of the listeners.

FURNISHINGS FOR THE PORCH

Summer Cushions, Among the Most Important Conveniences, Should Be Made to Withstand Service.

It is time to think of summer furnishings, especially those for the porch, with which even the most humble house is now supplied. Service is the first requisite of the summer cushion, because it must withstand dust and rain and general hard usage. For this reason heavy dark materials and washable ones are to be recommended.

Among the wash materials which are most attractive are the Japanese towings. These can now be bought in other shades than the usual blue and white. Brown and white, cool green and white and gray and white offer plenty of variety and chance for setting or matching a color scheme. They wash beautifully and are very reasonable.

For the round mats which many porches require where the porch steps are used for seats, stenciled ottomans are unusual. The advantage of an ottoman cushion in either black or white is that it can be wiped off with a damp cloth or left out overnight in storm or dew.

Black burlap stenciled makes an attractive porch pillow, too.

Sleeveless Coat in Vogue.

The combination of the sleeveless coat with long semimilitary cape in suits, which is one of the late spring style developments, is meeting with general approval throughout the country, according to reports from several New York manufacturers. That the cape on these garments is detachable is thought to be one of their most desirable features. This combination is also being made up for wear with separate skirts, and seems to be very popular with women in many sections.

A Vogue for White.

Quantities of delightful models, both imported and domestic, are developed in white—white wool, white silk, white linen and white cotton—and both the oyster white and ivory white are featured as well as the clear whites. In heavy crepe tussor of oyster white there are some admirable frocks and three-piece costumes, and the deep ivory whites are combined in especially felicitous ways with old blue and Chinese blue.

Fortunes in Bibles.

Eccentric people often conceal sums of money in the family Bible, where it is discovered, sometimes by chance, after their death.

Such an incident occurred in Paris. A French Poilu returned home from the front to find that his father had just died. He had left him nothing in his will, only the family Bible. Closer inspection revealed between its pages securities to the value of $65,000!

A few years ago a young nobleman who was in financial difficulties had occasion to refer to the family Bible for a date there recorded. In so doing he came across a number of Bank of England notes, amounting collectively to a considerable sum, which more than met his liabilities. Then he recalled his mother's dying words that "Help might be found in the Bible when all other sources failed." But he had paid small heed to the injunction, and certainly never dreamed of so practical a fulfillment of her words.

Common Things Most Precious.

Common is a patriotic word, because it suggests property rights, that which is the belonging of everybody. The parks of a city are commons, and so they ought to be called, without distinction except to give each a front yard of a name to separate it from the others. Boston common means something, as a city council found out once when it thought of alienating a part of it from its owners, the people. The things one finds in the parks are common, and to this they owe the frequenters' love—trees, flowers, birds, grass good and green, and clouds, and blue over all. There are no commoner things in the world, nor things more holding.

TELL YOUR WIFE CORNS LIFT OFF

Doesn't hurt a bit to lift corns or calluses off with fingers

Not a twinge of pain or soreness before applying, or afterwards. This may sound like a dream to corn-pestered men and women who have been cutting, filing and wearing torturous plasters. Yes! Corns lift out and calluses peel off as if by magic, says this Cincinnati authority.

A quarter ounce of freezeone costs but a few cents at any drug store. Apply a few drops directly upon your tender corn or callus, and instantly the soreness disappears; then shortly the corn or callus will be so loose that it lifts off. Freezeone dries instantly. It doesn't eat out the corn or callus, but just shrivels it up so it lifts away without even irritating the surrounding skin. Women should keep it on the dresser and never let a corn or callus ache twice.

HOLD YOUR BONDS

Secretary McAdoo has telegraphed A. R. Rogers, Ninth District director of the Third Liberty Loan, to make appeal that Liberty Loan Bonds be not traded for merchandise or for the securities of private corporations.

It has come to the attention of the secretary of the treasury, so he advises Mr. Rogers, that in a number of instances the good, sound, government bonds have been traded for some very doubtful securities.

"But aside from warning people not to trade their government bonds for securities of no or doubtful value I wish to appeal to bond holders in general not to trade their bonds for anything, either for good securities or for good merchandise," says Mr. McAdoo. "To do so would be to defeat in a considerable measure the purpose of the liberty loans."

"I am informed that many merchants have advertised that they would take liberty bonds of any of the three issues in exchange for merchandise. I do not think that these merchants have intended to interfere with the purpose of the liberty loan in any way."

"But we have sought to have these bonds purchased for permanent investment out of past or future savings, such savings thereby effecting conservation of both labor and materials. To exchange these bonds for merchandise or services is to thwart the conservation feature of the Liberty Loan campaigns."

"The inadvisability of exchanging government bonds for doubtful securities needs no argument. But they should not be exchanged for securities of any kind. Practically all the substantial and representative investment houses have unselfishly aided in the Liberty Loan campaigns and it is inconceivable that after the magnificent work of distributing government bonds any effort should be made to substitute other securities."

RE-ELECT FRED W. PUTNAM

Although last on the state ticket, the office of Railroad and Warehouse Commissioner is second in importance only to that of Governor. Some voters are led by the public interest which always centers in the fight for the head of the ticket to overlook the other places, and while this is quite natural, such action is a dereliction of duty as a citizen. Judge Ira B. Mills, chairman of the Minnesota Railroad and Warehouse Commission, stated recently that in the twenty-five years he had been a member of that body there never had been an election when it was more important for the interests of the state that the best equipped man obtainable be selected for the commission.

While the government has assumed the management of the railroads of the country, this has increased instead of decreased the work of the railroad commission. Numerous questions relating to the rights of the shippers and the public generally have been created by the new order of things. Fully 90 per cent of the new as well as the old questions have a legal bearing and other things being equal, a man of law, should prove most useful on the railroad commission for some years to come.

Fred W. Putnam, of Red Wing, a native product of Minnesota, born of pioneer stock and descended from Revolutionary heroes, is a candidate for re-election. He has been a member of the commission but six months but has developed a good understanding of the many duties of that body. He has been extremely diligent in mastering the laws relating to public carriers and in working on the numerous complaints and applications, and in the opinion of those familiar with the work of the commission has shown unusual capacity and aptitude in qualifying himself as a valuable state official.

THE NORTH WOODS

"The North Woods!" writes Mrs. A. M. Robertson of Ten Mile Lake. "What delightful memories of care-free days—of pine-clad hills and sparkling waters—the tang of that never to be forgotten, balsam laden, northern air."

"Remember the old top at the edge of that lily pad covered bay—the hies of the wet line through the guides, and the indescribable tug, as you 'struck' that big bass—your sometime rival, the little kingfisher, watching the performance while from the dead tamarack and from far overhead came the weird quavering cry of a swift flying loon?"

"Once in the blood the lure of the northland is irresistible, and where to go at vacation time is settled before it is asked. If you have not been to the 'park region' plan to go this season, and enjoy the pleasant summer climate in America."

"To those whose work is indoors, a short stay in the revivifying air of the pines will work miracles. The north woods no longer means 'roughing it'—necessarily. You can now have all the pleasures of woods and lakes—with none of the discomforts. "Come—the woods are calling!"

CASS COUNTY ROADS

That drive from Pillager to Pine River and beyond to Walker always leaves a pleasant memory in the mind of a car driver. That thoroughfare compares favorably with the best country roads in the United States and it is kept in excellent repair. It gives Crow Wing county people a taste of the kind of a road federal, state and county governments are today constructing at Gull lake and the 22 miles of that highway will be on a par with the Walker road.

When the Gull lake road is completed, the spectacle of a Crow Wing county man driving to Pillager, Cass county, in order to get a good road to Pequot, will be done away with.

THE HOT DAYS

It may be warm in Brainerd, but the city has the advantage of cool breezes and the population never found it necessary to sleep in city parks as Chicago people sometimes do in their torrid season.

In Iowa there are few lakes and the heat just radiates from the sand and parbols everybody. The hot days will set in motion the annual pilgrimage to Minnesota lakes and the north country, well advertised this year by the Ten Thousand Lakes association, will get more than its usual quota of visitors.

The Latest Kiss.

There's a new kiss in town. We've had the tango, the "Merry Widow" and the "Waltz Kiss," every one of them a variation of the osculation tribe. But the newest one is called the "Puff, Puff" kiss. It is the latest home-wrecking novelty along the main street, and now that it has been properly presented there is no doubt it will quickly become popular, at least in the cabarets. "Blow smoke into my mouth, Jim," teased the parlor "worm" in the latest of Broadway's comedies called "The Indestructible Wife." "Jim," who happens to be the new husband in the play, and somewhat of a "lounge lizard," complied, whereupon the parlor worm announced: "I feel so naughty this afternoon." So Jim gave another demonstration of the "puff, puff" kiss for the benefit of the wise first-nighters who took it with them. And now the merry, merry girls in cafes and other places having taken it up, it is quite the proper thing to blow smoke at them.—New York Times.

WILSON'S CONTROL IS PLAINLY SHOWN

CONGRESS, EAGER TO ADJOURN, APPLAUDS PRESIDENT WHEN HE TELLS IT TO STAY.

M'ADOO DECIDED THE MATTER

Senators Reed and Hardwick Are Strenuous Defenders of the Constitution, Which Must Be Somewhat Strained in These War Times.

By ARTHUR W. DUNN.

Washington.—The power of the president over congress was never better illustrated than on the day when he delivered his message to the two houses saying that they should stay in session and pass a revenue bill. There was not a man within the sound of his voice, either senator or representative, or any other employee about the capitol, that was not intensely in favor of postponing revenue legislation in order that congress might adjourn and not be compelled to stay here through the hot summer months. In fact, delegations of congressmen, headed by what was at one time called the "Famous Southern quintet," meaning Senators Simmons of North Carolina and Martin of Virginia, and Representatives Kitchen of North Carolina, Sherley of Kentucky and Garner of Texas, had labored earnestly with Secretary McAdoo and with the president urging them not to keep congress in session and showing that it would be politically disastrous to the Democratic party to do so. And yet when the president delivered his dictum saying that revenue legislation should be passed without an adjournment, he was applauded vigorously.

Never before did it take the president so long to decide a question, and the decision finally rested with Secretary McAdoo. The president at one time, according to the report of the senators and representatives who visited him, was inclined to listen to their arguments and arrange a compromise, but in the end the compromise was discarded and congress was told to stay in session and pass the revenue bill. They did not like it, but they applauded the president's utterances as if they enthusiastically endorsed all he said.

When former Senator Joseph W. Bailey retired from the United States senate he was about the only strenuous defender of the constitution left on the Democratic side. It was Senator Bailey's complaint, that even such an able constitutional lawyer as the late Senator Bacon had almost deserted him and that he was the lone figure left who was devoted to the constitution according to Democratic ideals.

If Mr. Bailey keeps track of senate proceedings at the present time he will observe that there are others following in his footsteps. Senator Reed of Missouri and Senator Hardwick of Georgia are never missing when the necessity arises for taking care of the immortal document which has had to undergo severe strain under recent administrations. Of course there is always a strain upon the constitution during war times, and there are reasons to believe that if "strict construction" should be applied there are quite a number of instances when the constitution has been disjointed in order to meet war exigencies.

As a general rule there is not very much interest in the senatorial primaries, and for the most part it is a foregone conclusion that every senator who is a candidate will be re-nominated, no matter to what party he belongs. But the situation is different in Illinois because of the possibilities of Republican success in that state. Further interest has been shown in the Illinois situation because there are now only two candidates in the Republican senatorial primary, Congressman Medill McCormick and Mayor William H. Thompson of Chicago. While Congressman McCormick is serving his first term, he is very well known in Washington, as he was for a long time one of the Washington correspondents and the men in the press gallery who were associated with him are particularly interested and are watching to see if a man who was once one of them will secure a seat in the highest legislative body in the world.

Senator Lenroot is quite a different personage from Congressman Lenroot. The congressman was very energetic, talked earnestly and fast, while the senator is very deliberate and his remarks have less fire than when uttered in the house. This is because a member of the house is always under pressure. His time is always limited. He must get through what he wants to say before the hammer falls. In the senate he has as much time as he cares to use.

Congressman Fordney of Michigan was talking about something that had been done and remarked that in one lump sum congress appropriated $800,000,000 for aircraft. From all over the hall came corrections by members who called out that it was $840,000,000.

"Oh, well," remarked Fordney, "a little matter of $40,000,000 in these days doesn't amount to much."

Manpower Drain Hurts Teutons. London, June 12.—The drain of manpower, the fall in the numbers of birth and the loss of the population through sickness and under-feeding is felt more severely by the Teuton powers than by the peoples of the Allies. Whereas, the annual gain of population in Germany, in Austria and in Hungary has given place to serious loss, the peoples of the Allies have suffered a very small diminution in comparison. Great Britain's total population has so far remained at about the same figure.

TRANSPORT ANSONIA SUNK

Cunard Liner Torpedoed and Forty of Crew Are Missing.

An Atlantic Port, June 12.—The Ansonia, a British transport owned by the Cunard line, was sunk by a U-boat torpedo while on her westward trip, according to private cable dispatches received here. Ninety per cent of her crew of 130 officers and men were rescued by an eastbound steamer and landed on the British coast. Search is being made for the 40 missing. The Ansonia had her stern blown off by a torpedo in June, 1917, but reached port. She was made of steel, 450.5 feet long, of 8,153 gross tons and had a speed of 14 knots.

CHANGED TO HEAD OF LIST

Old Negro Had Particular Reason for Refusing Henceforth to Be Known as Zeno.

A story is told of an old negro who had accumulated his savings in a bank in one of the Southern towns, says the Columbus Dispatch. One day the bank failed.

Zeno was the name of the old man, and when told the bank had failed he spent hours around the door, as if he hoped in that way to get his money.

One day the receiver said to him: "Don't you know that the bank has to be examined before any depositors can get their money? This is not the first bank that has failed."

"Shore, Ah knows dat," Zeno answered. "Ah's heered tell of banks bustin' before dis, but dis heah am de first time dat a bank evah busted right squah in mah face."

At last the examinations were over and the receiver announced that the depositors would be paid in alphabetical order. Some mistake had been made in figuring, and when they got down to Ws the money gave out and Zeno lost his savings.

But he didn't lose all his courage. He saved for a few months and had a little to put in another bank. He went to the cashier, who said:

"All right, Zeno, we will be glad to open an account for you."

"Zeno nuthin'," he said. "Mah name ain't Zeno no moh, mah name's Aaron."

Freight Congestion Clears in East.

Washington, June 12.—Freight congestion east of the Mississippi is now almost eliminated. Railroad administration reports showed only 11,000 cars above normal on eastern lines, as compared with 160,000 above normal last January, when congestion was worst.

Army Short of Officers.

Washington, June 12.—The army's need for officers has become so great that the next series of training camps will again be opened to civilian candidates. The fifth training camps will be located at the permanent replacement camps instead of with the divisions. The artillery, especially, is short of officers. The plan that has been practically decided upon is to admit 1,100 civilian candidates and 1,200 from the ranks to the artillery officers' training camp each month.

and ADVERTISE

Advertising cannot accomplish the impossible any more than barren ground can yield rich crop.

But how advertising does make things hum when the product and proposition are right, the men and methods above board, when there's an honest purpose and earnest effort from bundle boy to general manager to serve efficiency, to deal honestly, to sell good goods, to price fairly.

Oil up the machinery of your business, imbue your organization with the spirit of true service, make your business worthy of the good will, the confidence, the patronage of the people.

In this fertile field then sow the seed of advertising and it will bring forth abundant crops in increased business and augmented prestige.

Your store news in the Dispatch will be read in practically every home in Brainerd and vicinity every evening.

DAN LAWLER NOT PRESENT

Patriotic Meeting Scheduled With St. Paul Man as Chief Orator Failed to Have Mr. Lawler

SPLENDID HOME ADDRESSES

Rev. Father J. J. O'Mahoney and Rev. G. P. Sheridan Spoke, Also Messrs. McMahon and Blair

The patriotic meeting to be addressed by Hon. Daniel Lawler, silver tongued orator of the Minnesota prairies and the state capital, failed Tuesday evening to present Mr. Lawler who had been unavoidably detained.

So local speakers and two St. Paul men made up the program. The best addresses of the evening were by Rev. Father J. J. O'Mahoney, of St. Francis Catholic church, and Rev. G. P. Sheridan of the First Congregational church. Both made many friends by their clear statements and eloquent phrases.

The meeting was presided over by R. R. Wise. The invocation was given by Rev. Father O'Mahoney.

In his address Father O'Mahoney eloquently referred to Minnesota history in the civil war and the part it played in upholding the union. He paid a tribute to the pioneers, to DuLuth, Hennepin and others who blazed a trail into the wondrous west.

To the French Minnesota owed its start and he paid a glowing tribute to the nation which has and is doing so much for civilization.

In a thrilling peroration he urged Minnesota's rallying cry to be "Loyalty and Patriotism."

A quartet composed of S. F. Alderman, Al Mraz, G. S. Swanson and John Bye sang patriotic selections. E. W. McMahon of St. Paul, secretary of the St. Paul Civic & Commerce association, made a lengthy address and spoke on St. Paul aims, the work of the Civic & Commerce association, boosting the Ten Thousand Lakes association, functions of the Chamber of Commerce, conditions in Brainerd, praised Fred T. Lincoln, explained problems of readjustment, American history, the growth of the farmer movements, A. C. Townley, Gompers, labor troubles at Buffalo, scored socialist mayor Van Lear of Minneapolis, gave street car arguments of the Twin City Rapid Transit Co., Public Safety Commission which kept the state's resources and men mobilized, Order No. 1 of the Safety Commission, illiteracy in the army, after the war problems and closed by stating there were two jobs to be put through, one to carry the war to a successful conclusion and the other to make the U. S. a better democracy.

Rev. Sheridan explained the German system of frightfulness and recounted atrocities committed which had caused more suffering than any inferno Dante ever pictured. More insidious in its workings than any poison gas on battle fields was the gas of gossip unloosed on Italian and Russian soil and now striving for a foothold on American ground. He charged that Minnesota had its poison gas brigade, pro-Germans and paid spies. The way to beat the poison gas gossip was to keep one's mouth shut.

There was only one course left to beat the Hun and that was to fight it out to the end. Everything with the shadow of a Hun on it should be sandpapered and the pieces burned.

He wanted all German eliminated, no more German prefixes or affixes. Any person teaching German should be examined as to his loyalty. This war called for a united front, the mobilization of men and resources, for the highest courage, devotion and patriotism. There was no time to waste on speculative enterprises, on organizing new parties and societies.

"We must save, serve and sacrifice."

BRAINERD VS. LONG PRAIRIE

Brainerd plays Long Prairie at Brainerd Thursday evening, the game being called at 7 o'clock sharp. It will be the first evening game played in Brainerd since the Central Minnesota Red Cross league was established.

It will be Brainerd's first chance to see their new pitcher Hannan in action. He has a strikeout record of 14 Royalton men to his credit.

Our supreme duty at this stage is to kill Huns and save the U. S."

"We must have in office only men who are 100 per cent loyal to the U. S. This is no time to experiment."

W. T. Blair of St. Paul spoke on the 10,000 Lakes association and the good it had already accomplished. "Come to Minnesota," was the slogan. Mr. Blair had visited with P. H. McGarry, president of the association, and was charmed by the courtesy and hospitality shown in the north. He predicted increased tourist travel to the Northern Minnesota Lakes Region.

Five lads at the depot park, four with ice cream cones and one in the center, Ralph Anderson, age 7, eating no ice cream.

"What's the matter, kid," asked a sympathetic stranger. "Won't the other fellows give you a taste?"

"We all had nickels," said Ralph, "and they bought ice cream and I'm saving my nickel for War Savings Stamps."

And the nickel was tightly clutched in his left hand as his lips quivered and he saw the others eating their cones. Ralph has three War Savings Stamps, and they all represent self-dental, side-stepping ice cream, peanuts, popcorn, candy, etc.

District Chairmen Giving Optimistic Reports, Pequot Asks for More Pledge Cards

CUYUNA UNDER WAY TUESDAY

Campaign Continues Throughout the Week, and Expected Quota Will Soon be Realized

The War Saving campaign in Crow Wing county got under headway a little slow but all reports are that people fully appreciate the necessity of purchasing all they can and are meeting the expectations of the county committee.

Here and there are men found who do not realize that they have a part to do but they are very few.

W. L. Taylor of the Brainerd district states that his solicitors are reporting better subscriptions than they had anticipated.

Geo. A. Tracy says that the eleven townships in his district are at work and he has good reason to expect the full quota to be raised.

J. P. Bakken of the Pequot district says things are going fine. "Send us more pledge cards."

O. W. Peterson of the Cuyuna district, just got his men started Tuesday but said that the prospects were very good.

Albert Humble of the Crosby district, said Crosby will come across with its full quota.

Mayor James Long of Ironton is confident that when the pledges are all in that Ironton will have raised its full quota.

H. J. Smith of Riverton, has the satisfaction of having his quota fully subscribed and six hundred dollars to the good.

Other districts have their men at work but have not progressed far enough to give definite results. The campaign will continue throughout the week.

JACK PICKFORD
"Tom Sawyer" at the Best Tonight

Jack Pickford has long been a student and friend of Mark Twain's famous boy hero, "Tom Sawyer," and it is for this reason as well as for the fact that he has become a famous portrayal of boy roles, such as "Freckles," the "Dummy," "Seventeen" and others, that he was chosen by Paramount for the character of Tom.

He isn't so old that he has forgotten the days when he lived breathlessly through the pages of the story, joying with the redoubtable Tom in his adventures or sorrowing with him in his misfortunes. The incident of the whitewashed fence which received three coats, and for which Tom who was supposed to do it himself, received payment of unlimited marbles, jews-harps, tadpoles and other boys' treasures, has long been a favorite of Mr. Pickford's, and it is faithfully portrayed in the screen version.

The fact that the exterior scenes were taken at Hannibal, Missouri, the very town in which Samuel Clemens, or Mark Twain, as he is better known, wrote, adds to the effectiveness of the production. The river scenes where Tom and the famous Huck Finn escape on a raft and return only in time for their own funeral services was taken at the very spot Mark Twain described, so that could he see the production, he would undoubtedly believe his hero was indeed coming to life before his eyes.

Director William D. Taylor, who has been responsible for most of Mr. Pickford's recent pictures, has given to "Tom Sawyer" the result of his years of experience and a thorough training in the field of motion picture photography and directing. The scenario was written by Julia Crawford Ivers.

Manager Workman of the Best theatre has arranged for the presentation of "Tom Sawyer" at his theatre tonight.

New York, June 12—Receipt by the New York Federal Reserve bank of $5,000,000 gold from Ottawa confirms recent forecasts of a resumption of gold imports from Canada such as preceded the entrance of this country into the war. DIFFERS WITH TWO OF HIS CHAIRMEN

PRESIDENT IS NOT IN HARMONY WITH THE HEADS OF THE TWO MILITARY COMMITTEES.

ODD CONDITIONS IN WARTIME

John Sharp Williams Often Lectures the Senate Severely, but Without Result, for It Doesn't Mend Its Dilatory Ways.

By ARTHUR W. DUNN.

Washington.—It is rather an anomaly that while the country is at war the chairmen of the two military committees in the senate and house are not in close harmony with the president, although they are members of his party. The conscription law was fought through the house by Congressman Kahn of California, the ranking Republican member of the military committee. It also turns out that Chairman Dent of that committee was opposed to the amendment to the conscription act which has recently been considered in congress, and Kahn led the administration forces.

Senator Chamberlain has opposed the president on a number of things, but very rarely on military legislation. He has supported almost every measure recommended by the administration, but it is a fact that there are differences between the president and Chamberlain which cannot be easily reconciled.

It is interesting to note that these differences between the president and the chairmen of the military committees are somewhat peculiar. With Chairman Dent they related entirely to matters of legislation and are not at all personal. With Chairman Chamberlain the differences are almost wholly personal, caused by Chamberlain's opposition to some of the president's policies.

John Sharp Williams is developing into quite a lecturer of the senate. He does not say much during the day, but toward the close of several hours of ineffective debate he takes up the subject of senatorial incompetency and expresses his opinion without reserve. The Mississippi senator has a strong command of language, and he uses it unsparringly when telling the senate that it talks too much and does not legislate enough. But the worst part of it is that the senate receives these lectures and the next day goes right along and pays no attention to them. But, then, that is the way of the senate; there has not been a time in the last half century that the body has been free from such criticism as Senator Williams bestows, and yet it goes along in its old ways, regardless of its faults, which are so frequently pointed out.

Here is the way Williams talked to the senate one day: "You have had the opportunity every minute since this bill was resorted either to vote it up or vote it down; and it does not make much difference which way you vote it; but you have chosen rather to waste time, talking, fooling, camouflaging, twaddling and twaddling, splitting hairs at a time when the whole cause of the liberty of the world is at stake."

Congressman Moore of Pennsylvania was making a speech and made an allusion to "the gentleman from Wisconsin" and immediately got into a controversy with Congressman Stafford of that state. Moore expressed his humble apology, saying that he did not mean Stafford, but another member, adding: "The trouble is that when a member refers to 'the gentleman from Wisconsin' a large part of the delegation rises with one accord."

As Stafford is so very active in the house, following the course pursued by Jim Mann and taking a hand in everything, he naturally assumes that an allusion to "the gentleman from Wisconsin" is directed toward himself.

Wisconsin" is directed toward himself.

This is the time when a great many men in public life should carry a political looking-glass with them all the time in order to see if their nonpartisan hats are on straight. It does not take very much to bring on a partisan discussion and provoke eliminations and recriminations across the party aisle. Notwithstanding the fact that every loyal American has about all he can do to carry on the fight against the Kaiser, it frequently happens that the political parties are in a scrap which shows that there is a well-defined line of demarcation between the Democrats and Republicans.

The charges of partisanship come up whenever the Republicans take occasion to criticize severely some official of the government. If this criticism is directed at a man who is supposed to be very close to the president the Democrats are inclined to resent it all the more and to be very vigorous in asserting that the attacks are made for partisan purposes. This was particularly true in regard to the severe criticisms of George Creel of the publicity bureau in the house. Such charges could not be maintained in the senate because some of the severest critics were on the Democratic side.

It is very doubtful, however, whether there would be any talk about partisanship and nonpartisanship if an election was not approaching.

Experiments by German scientists have proved the truth of the old theory that tightening a man's belt lessens hunger.

BEGIN HOT WATER "DRINKING IF YOU DON'T FEEL RIGHT"

Says glass of hot water with phosphate before breakfast washes out poisons.

If you wake up with a bad taste, bad breath and tongue is coated; if your head is dull or aching; if what you eat scours and forms gas and acid in stomach, or you are bilious, constipated, nervous, sallow and can't get feeling just right, begin inside bathing. Drink before breakfast, a glass of real hot water with a teaspoonful of Limestone phosphate in it. This will flush the poisons and toxins from stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels and cleanse, sweeten and purify the entire alimentary tract. Do your inside bathing immediately upon arising in the morning to wash out of the system all the previous day's poisonous waste, gases and sour bile before putting more food into the stomach.

To feel like young folks feel; like you felt before your blood, nerves and muscles became loaded with body impurities, get from your pharmacist a quarter pound of Limestone phosphate which is inexpensive and almost tasteless, except for a sourish twinge which is not unpleasant.

Just as soap and hot water act on the skin, cleansing, sweetening and freshening, so hot water and Limestone phosphate act on the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels. Men and women who are usually constipated, bilious, headachy or have any stomach disorder should begin this inside bathing before breakfast. They are assured they will become real cranks on the subject shortly.

Bobbie's Real Trouble.

Bobbie was away from home to stay all night for the first time. He tried to be brave, but when bedtime came his host noticed tears creep into his eyes. "What's the trouble, little man," he asked, "are you homesick?" "No," replied Bobbie, quite truthfully, "I'm awaysick."

ALL WORKING TO AID OUR FIGHTERS

HIGH PATRIOTISM OF THE MILITARY WHO CANNOT TAKE ACTIVE PART IN WAR.

WOMEN FOREMOST IN THIS

Former Senator Depew Talks About the Prohibition Amendment and Its Chances—Swanson Gets Navy Bill Through in Record Time.

By ARTHUR W. DUNN.

Washington.—Patriotism of a high degree is shown by millions of people who cannot go to war, according to reports that have been received in Washington from various parts of the country. As an instance of this patriotism the oversubscription to the Red Cross fund is cited, but it is shown in other ways that do not get before the public. The care that is given the soldiers and sailors is greater than was ever before heard of in any war. Possibly it was because of the reports that the camps and clothing were inadequate last winter that an extra effort was made on the part of the people to supply all possible deficiencies and make up to the men who are going to fight the battles of the country any shortcomings that might have inadvertently occurred in the rapid mobilization of an army.

Foremost in this work have been the women of the country, who have been doing everything in their power to furnish clothing and conveniences for the troops. The fact that the Red Cross fund was oversubscribed is believed to be due largely to the work of the women in their Red Cross uniforms who have been soliciting funds.

The authorities also give great credit to the Y. M. C. A. organization which has established rooms at every camp and by which extraordinary efforts have been made to furnish the soldiers with books and entertainments. The manner in which people have volunteered their services in these entertainments is one of the features that has gratified the authorities.

Take it all in all, there is abundant evidence that the people of this country, with very few exceptions, are heart and soul interested in the war and are doing everything they can to help the soldiers and sailors who must fight the war, and make them comfortable, not only while at home, but so far as is their power while they are abroad.

Former Senator Chauncey M. Depew, who was in Washington for a few days recently, is a conservative on the subject of prohibition and if he had been in the senate he would not have voted for the prohibition amendment which is going to be one of the live issues in the campaign this fall. Mr. Depew says that notwithstanding the fact that only a very small percentage of the people of New York would vote for ratifying the prohibition amendment, it is likely that the legislature to be elected this fall will adopt it. He points out that those who are advocating the amendment are so very determined that they will secure pledges from candidates for the legislature and that these candidates are timid enough to promise to vote for the amendment in order to assure their elections. It is a sort of self-preservation measure and members of the legislature know that if they do not pledge themselves to support the amendment they will be marked men when the next election comes around. Just as senators and representatives in congress give attention to the wishes of their home folk, so do the members of state legislatures, and that is why the prohibitionists are confident that they are going to win enough states to ratify the amendment after the election this fall.

Senator Swanson of Virginia made a record with the naval appropriation bill, getting it through in one afternoon, although it was the largest naval appropriation bill ever passed and contained legislation of vast importance to the navy in the future. And the Virginia senator would have used only one-third of the time if there had not been a prolonged discussion over the stop-watch and efficiency systems in connection with labor on government work. The debate and votes on this and kindred subjects show what a power labor has become in the politics of the country.

No doubt a number of Democratic members who made direful predictions when they were talking so earnestly against a revenue bill at this session of congress are earnestly hoping that their predictions will fall. Quite a number of the leaders insisted that if this congress enacted revenue legislation at this session it would mean an overwhelming Democratic defeat this fall. But everybody knows that the state of the war will have more to do with determining the result of the November election than anything else.

Will Come Out in the Wash.

"Why, Ethel, you haven't washed your hands this morning, have you?" "No, mother."

"But you must wash them before you have your breakfast!"

"No, mother, it's not necessary. I'm going to help you wash the dishes after breakfast, and I guess one washing will do."

YANKS GAIN 1,200 YDS.

Americans Push Enemy Back to Fringe of Belleau Wood.

Capture Two of Largest Guns Yet Taken By Them and Will Send Them Home.

With the American Army in France, June 12.—On a 600-yard front in the Belleau wood, northwest of Chateau Thierry, American marines attacked the Germans and penetrated their lines for 1,200 yards. The Germans now hold only the northern fringe of the wood.

The Americans captured two minenwerfers, which are the largest pieces yet taken by them. It is expected one will be sent to Washington and the other to Annapolis.

Both artilleries were increasingly active on the Toul front.

American patrols are continually active and some prisoners are brought in almost daily. Sergeant Burns of the signal corps, went on a "personally conducted" tour of the boches' front trenches. He shot every German he ran across and returned safely to his own lines.

The rain sweeping the section west of Montdidier has rendered the front positions cold and wet, in contrast to the heat of the last few weeks.

The greatest air activity continues along the lines, despite unfavorable weather. Fighting and bombing planes, headed for boche territory, look like huge flocks of crows. The Germans are bombing Allied back areas, with the Allies heavily retaliating.

One American field hospital was so endangered by enemy bombs that preparations have been made to evacuate it but the nurses and doctors are still on the job.

One reserve police woman will be assigned to each block and she will be required to make reports to the precinct captain.

DOES MANY THINGS TO HELP WIN WAR

ACTIVITIES OF AGRICULTURAL DEPARTMENT IN THIS LINE ARE VERY IMPORTANT.

FINDS ENOUGH FARM LABOR

Its Inspectors See That Soldiers Get Wholesome Meat—Congressman Ragsdale's View of His Duties Bluntly Stated by Him.

By ARTHUR W. DUNN.

Washington.—It may not occur to the average person that the agricultural department of the United States is doing a great deal to help win the war, but the fact is that this department is very important and its war work is especially useful. Among the many things which the department has done none is more helpful than mobilizing farm labor. Agents of the department went into the cities, towns and villages and procured men to work on the farms, and the belief is now expressed that enough farm labor will be obtained to harvest the crops.

It is not generally known that 67 inspectors of the bureau of animal industry, experts on meats of all kinds, are now with the United States army and see to it that the soldiers get wholesome meat. There are 30 inspectors engaged in similar work with the navy. Another activity of the agricultural department is the demonstration for preserving eggs so that they can be shipped abroad and used for the army. Great success has attended the "pig clubs," in which 100,000 boys and girls are now engaged in increasing the output of pork. The department has employed 5,651 extension workers who are aiding the food production and conservation campaign. It has also aided in searching out timber needed in war supplies, particularly that used in making airplanes. In fact, there are many enterprises in which the agricultural department is engaged, all tending to help win the war.

Three Canuck soldiers were at the capitol on the day that President Wilson delivered his address to congress and they were very much gratified at having an opportunity to get into the gallery and hear the ringing words of the president.

One of these soldiers was a young man from Calgary, away off near the Rocky mountains. He was the most cheerful one of the lot and in an off-hand way told his experience: "I had been over there about two years and then I lost my leg at the Somme and had to be shipped home." One was from Hamilton, Ontario. "I have been over there since 1914," he said, "and for nearly two years I was in the German prison pens." The third, a bright looking young fellow, remarked that he went over in 1915 and returned only when "gas and shell shock had about done for me."

Probably each one of these men had as good a story, if he knew how to tell it, as any of the thrilling tales that have been told by men who have been fighting the Hun for the last three or four years and whose articles have appeared in various publications.

Here is something in the way of expert testimony on congressional conditions in the year of our Lord, 1918. Congressman Ragsdale of South Carolina was trying to get consent for the consideration of a bill authorizing a bridge over some little stream in his district. Several members seemed unduly concerned and inclined to ask questions.

"I have stayed around here today a good big part of my time," said Ragsdale, "because I want to get this bill through."

"Should not the gentleman stay here a part of his time, anyway?" inquired Congressman Dowell of Iowa.

"No," retorted Ragsdale; "I think I could spend my time to much better advantage almost anywhere else than to stay here and listen to the hot air that is turned loose on this floor a large part of the time. I am supposed to take care of my district and represent it down in the departments, because most members of congress are little better than messenger boys now."

Provost Marshal General Crowder and his assistants intend to search all the corners of the country for slackers and for those who would escape doing service for the country. There is a strong public sentiment backing up the men who are enforcing the draft laws, particularly since the reports have begun to arrive showing that many Americans are making the supreme sacrifice for the honor of the country.

Commissioner Cato Sells of the bureau of Indian affairs is not waiting for the adoption of the woman suffrage amendment before putting equal suffrage principles into practice. He recently appointed Miss Florence Etheridge to a probate attorneyship under his bureau in Oklahoma. The duties of the new attorney will consist of a sort of motherly supervision over Indian children and incompetent Indian grownups, to see that no one buccos them out of their property. Considerable responsibility attaches to the work for there is probably no wealthier class of people in the world today than the Oklahoma Indians with their valuable oil lands.

Certainly we should be able to pledge that amount of purchases in one week. We can and we will—if every person in Minnesota does his or her duty.

NAVAL DRIVE COMING

German Fleet Is Being Prepared for Big Battle.

Teutons Will Support Their Land Offensive by Attacking Allied Navies.

Washington, June 12.—An official dispatch from Switzerland gives further evidence that Germany, in its efforts to end the war this summer, is planning to support its land offensive by sending high seas forces against the combined British and American grand fleets.

"A telegram of an official nature," says the dispatch, "is being spread broadcast in Germany, which says the German admiralty is considering a big naval offensive. Orders are supposed to have been given to keep the whole fleet in readiness and a certain number of naval officers of high rank are being hurriedly recalled from Switzerland and other neutral countries where they have been spending their leave."

Both in Washington and in the Allied capitals the appearance of the Teutonic fleet in the North sea at any time would not be unexpected.

If the battle does come the American naval forces will play their part. American dreadnaughts under Rear Admiral Hugh Rodman joined the British fleet some time ago and Admiral Gleave in his recent address said that when Admiral Beatty, commanding the British grand sea forces, heard the Germans were coming he assigned the American ships a prominent part in the line.
